A Short introduction.....

Starting from his own garage back in 1983, Johan Paus build his own firm to one of the bigger wholesale organizations in the Netherlands. Importing small and beginning brands such as Sidi, he quickly connected with dealers throughout the country.

Quickly growing out of the garage, Jopa moved to an old bank building in the center of Enter, a small village in the east of the Netherlands. Jopa decided to start an own motocross brand, which we are still famous for. A unique fact is that the clothing is still completely manufactured in our own studio Jopa, which comes from the first letters of both the founders first and surname, is now located in a 6000 square meters building just 2 kilometers from the old garage.

Jopa Racing Products is now grown into an international wholesale organization and for more than 25 years active in supplying road, race, and Off-Road products. The main brands are Sidi, Airoh and Shiro. Jopa is active in the Netherlands, Germany, Belgium and Scandinavian countries.

Below you can see pictures of Johan Paus in his younger years.

JETT™

There are leather boots, and there are plastic boots. Now there's something better; "JETT BOOTS". They're so revolutionary in design that there's no other boot in its class. Made from an exclusive and proprietary material developed by Jett. These boots are three pounds lighter than other high end brands.

Features like polyurethane ankle support system that won't break down, replaceable shank and an ultra low profile toe box are exclusive to Jett boots. Unique cam buckle system offers a positive close and lock operation every time. The materials on the Jett boots won't breakdown or fatigue like traditional boots, giving the rider maximum support and protection ride after ride.

The buckles, straps and locks are replaceable without the use of tools and the upper shell is removable and interchangeable.

The boot opens wide to accept knee braces and best of all, there's no break-in period. So if you're ready for something not just new but extraordinary, step into a pair of Jett boots.

Traditional leather boots are typically heavy, bulky and break down quickly. They offer great protection when new, however over time the leather breaks down and the protection aspect of the boot is significantly reduced. We have been designing leather boots in Italy for over 30 years. We realized that in order to make a boot lighter, less bulky and more durable we must completely change the way boots are made. This includes the materials used, the design and of course the manufacturing process.

After years of R&D, we have developed the perfect combination of materials along with a state of the art manufacturing process. This allows us to produce a boot that is extremely light weight with a low profile design and offers outstanding protection that doesn't breakdown over time. Jett boots require no break in time!

PERFORMANCE

• Light Weight

Jett boots are much lighter than the traditional leather boot. We use proprietary materials that allow us to produce the lightest boot on the market without compromising protection.

• Low Profile

Because Jett boots are molded, we are able to create a low profile toe box without changing the dimensions of the interior. This allows the shift area to be low to maximize feel.

• Won't Break Down

Traditional leather boots will break down over time and offer less protection than when new. Jett boots don't break down. Therefore, the boot maintains the protection characteristics ride after ride.

• Replaceable Shank

The Jett boot has a replaceable shank system. This allows the user to replace the shank and rubber peg area themselves.

• Easy Entry

Jett boots open wide to allow for proper adjustment of knee braces and large knee protection.

• Buckle System

Jett boots have an easy to use buckle and strap system. The buckles have a positive cam lock that is easy to operate time after time and is unaffected by dirt and mud. The straps can be easily adjusted with your gloves on and have multiple micro settings.

• No Tools Required

All of the maintenance for the Jett boots can be done by the user. And best of all, all of the buckles, straps and locks can be replaced without the use of tools. The entire top shell is removable by a simple cam lock system.

• No Break-In Period

Jett boots require no break in time.

The Omega brace was developed by professionals that have been designing and manufacturing off-road safety equipment for over 30 years. With the help of top doctors and surgeons, we were able to develop the safest neck brace you can buy.

Energy reduction

Most neck braces rest on your shoulders which means that upon impact, the pressure is directed to a small area. Often your collarbone and sternum suffer the brunt during impact. Omega is different. Omega's innovative shape and adjustable suspension system work together to distribute the force and make the impact much more manageable. Less force means less risk of injury.

Energy Transfer

Upon impact, the top plate of the brace starts to slow down and reduce the energy. While the energy is constantly being reduced, it is transferred from the top plate to the suspension strap system. This system distributes the remaining energy over a wide area that is manageable by the body. The energy is redirected away from the sternum and spine area.

Adjustability

Because every rider doesn't have the same size neck and body structure, your neck brace must be adjustable in order to work properly. Too much space between the brace and helmet can be dangerous because of the inertia that is gained during impact. Too little space in this area can result in restricted mobility. The Omega brace has multiple adjustments to micro fit these areas. The rider can raise and lower the brace to adjust for individual neck heights and pivot the top plate to accommodate different riding styles.

Comfort

Omega's revolutionary light-weight construction maximizes comfort without sacrificing protection. The open-front design allows better airflow and is less restrictive. In fact, Omega reduces the type of throat and neck injuries that can occur with closed collar-style braces.

X1 - Adult MX

Upon impact, the Omega brace slows down and reduces the energy while dispersing it over a wide area.

FORCEFIELD BODY ARMOUR

Forcefield products must protect, AND be more comfortable than any other protector.

It sounds simple, our designers might lose a night's sleepor two trying to come up with the next great piece of technology, yet after 24 years at the forefront of soft armour development, they are best qualified for the job! Whilst all other manufacturers pursued the old fashioned hardshell armour, our designers were going against the grain, designing and manufacturing class leading soft armour products and pushing test standards further... and we still are.

Fresh Idea's and Evolution - the results speak for themselves.

The highest performing back protector on the market is the multi award winning flagship Pro Sub 4. An amazing 3.38kN CE Level 2 pass rate! Constant evolution of products turn them into something very special, the multi award winning Pro L2, now with Kevlar is the perfect example.

Who uses it?

There is very good reason why many of the Premium motorcycle leather suit manufacturers, National Ski and snowboard teams, the Police, RAF Search and Rescue and Military around the world, not to mention the most important elite sportsmen and women from an array of sports choose Forcefield Body Armour. They know it works and protects them to the highest level. We continue to research new technologies, techniques and materials, our technically advanced Base layer clothing systems, and industry leading protection are testament to this.

Your protection comes first, with no compromise.
We have you covered.

All Forcefield Body Armour® is fully CE approved.

This is the core of our market-leading strategy: maintaining a credible product, with proven performance.

CE testing standards for limb and back armour take into account the products' comfort and ergonomic functions, as well as their all-important protection levels. Armour that conforms to CE standards is declared to be proven in reducing the incidence and severity of injuries.

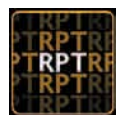

Forcefield's Pro Sub 4 Back Protector, for instance, has achieved an astonishing and repeatable 3.38kN impact measurement.

With authentic CE approved limb or back protection, the end user can be confident that extensive research and testing has gone into the development of the product and that it has been accredited by the leading authorised body.

Nitrex Evo®

This protected technology offers protection evenly across its surface. Most other protectors performance will vary and be inconsistent. You never know where the impact will strike!

Repeat Performance Technology (RPT)

The specialist materials used offer Repeat Performance Technology (RPT) allowing multiple impacts with no loss of protective performance. Many protectors can withstand only one impact and must be discarded after a fall.

Multi-Density

By using a combination of specialised high-tech energy absorbing materials, the protectors are less bulky with a low profile whilst still offering unrivalled protection.

Flexibility and 3D Moulding

A combination of Nitrex Evo® and multi layer construction results in a system that offers both lightweight and flexible protectors. With a unique 3-Dimensional moulding characteristic the armour becomes part of the body for all day comfort with no restriction.

Breathability

The unique triangular Nitrex Evo® outer grid has been designed to allow maximum air flow and breathability whilst also reducing the weight and thickness.
